VI. Medical Insurance

(I) National Health Insurance

According to Taiwanese law, international students staying in Taiwan with an ARC for more than six months must enroll in National Health Insurance at their school or local district office. A person staying in Taiwan for six full months prescribed in enforcement rules of the NHI Act refers to a person who has, after entering into Taiwan, stayed in Taiwan for six consecutive months or exited from Taiwan once for fewer than 30 days with the actual period of stay amounting to six months after the number of days that he or she has been away from Taiwan is deducted.

International students with relatives who are an insured employee must enroll in the NHI program as dependents of the insured.

The National Health Insurance Program is mandatory; anyone who is eligible for the program must enroll in. Any qualified person who doesn't enroll is subject to a fine of NT$3,000 to NT$15,000. In addition, this person is required to pay the full premiums starting from the date he or she should have been enrolled. No benefits will be offered before the premiums are paid in full. A notice of penalty violation will be delivered in writing and the fine must be paid on time. If the fines imposed remain unpaid, after a given period of time the case will be referred to the courts for compulsory enforcement.

(II) How to apply for National Health Insurance IC Card?

A. International freshmen (including international students, overseas Chinese students and exchange students who came to Taiwan last year) can apply for a health insurance IC card after staying in Taiwan for more than six months. Please provide "one 2-inch photo", "photocopy of both front side and back side of ARC" and proof of low-income status (for overseas Chinese students) to the Discipline Section, Office Of Student Affairs.

B. New regulations stipulates that overseas Chinese students must provide "proof of low-income status in your country" to be qualified for health care benefits.

C. The date you may apply for a Health Insurance IC card:

The date you enter Taiwan + six months = the date you may apply if you did not exit from Taiwan + days you exit from Taiwan (you may only exit from Taiwan once for no more than 30 days)

► 2022/09/10 (the date you enter Taiwan) + 6 (six months) = 2023/03/10 + 27 (assume that you exit from Taiwan for 27 days)--- the date you may apply is 2023/04/07

D. International students and Overseas Chinese students without proof of low-income status will be charged a premium of NT $4,956 for six months (  $826 * 6 = 4,956$  )

Overseas Chinese students with proof of low-income status will be charged premium of a NT$2,478 for six months (  $413 * 6 = 2478$  )

(III) What to do if you lose your card?

If any changes are required or if you lose your NHI IC card, you may replace it by applying at any post office branch or at the Bureau of National Health Insurance. A 2-inch photo and a fee of NT $200 are required.

(IV) Medical services

After successfully applying for coverage under NHI, you will receive a NHI IC card. International students can use this card and ARC at NHI contracted hospitals and medical clinics around Taiwan. But the registration fee and part of the medical expenses are not included in NHI coverage.

(IV) Climate in Taitung

Eastern Taiwan is about 250 kilometers long. The Tropic of Cancer cutting across the island divides it into tropical and subtropical climate. Taitung basically has a tropical monsoon climate. The region's average summer temperature is about 27 degrees, but it often rise up to 30 degrees during the daytime. The temperature may be high, but being surrounded by high mountains and the sea, its climate is less sultry than that of metropolitan areas in western Taiwan. The average winter temperature is about 20 degrees. It may drop to about 12 degrees during a cold wave, but this doesn't happen very often.

Typhoon is one of the characteristics of Taitung's climate. Every July and August is the typhoon season. Since most typhoons develop in open waters near the Philippines, the eastern part of Taiwan will be the first to be affected. Therefore, summer often brings furious storms to Taitung. But western Taiwan is less affected thanks to the central mountain range that serves as a typhoon barrier.

Precipitation is quite abundant in eastern Taiwan, with an average annual precipitation up to 2,000 mm, but they are mostly heavy rain carried by typhoons during summer. There are not many rainy days in eastern Taiwan, especially in Taitung, which often has fine sunny weather ideal for travel.

• Summer and autumn (April-November)

The temperature is around 25 degrees. July and August are the hottest months of the year with temperatures reaching up to 33 degrees and higher average precipitations.

• Winter and spring (December-April)

The temperature is cooler with an average temperature around 20 degrees from December to February. It may drop to about 12 degrees during a cold wave.
